alifornia Canneries Must Run Night and Day to Supply the Immense Demand from Eastern Cities.

By Telegraph to The Times.

VISALIA, July 25 .- [By the Associated Press.] The Republican County Convention today indorsed Markham for Governor, and nominated Oregon Sanders for the Assembly. Delegates favoring E. P. Irwin objected to the relings of the Chairman, T. H. Thomp-sen of Tulare, and left the convention in a body before the nomination was made. The convention adjourned till tomorrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—The Republican County Committee met last night and canvassed the election returns. The official estimate shows that 13,650 votes were polled, an unusually large number for a primary. The one hundred and seventy-six Democratic precinct clubs met last night for ancollment. enrollment.

A FAVORED LAND.

California Alone Has a Big Fruit Crop This Year.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25 .- [By the Associated Press.] The failure of the eastern fruit crop and the constant demand on this State to supply the deficit in green, dried and canned fruits is greater this year than was ever before known. Every packing establishment, of which there are about eighteen or twenty on the coast, is being run to its fullest ca-is being run to its fullest capacity. Up to the present time the greater bulk of the fruit shipped from the State this season is green, but it is believed that by the end of the season canned goods will have greatly exceeded the shipments of the other two classes.

California this year seems to have been the only State that has succeeded in raising a large crop. The present rush of ripe fruit to the canneries is so great that a San José cannery has had to make arrangements for running sight and day shifts of packers to handle the large consignments. This

Extensive Grass and Timber Fires in Calaveras County. MILTON, July 25.—[By the Associated Press.] One of the largest and most destructive grass and timber fires for years has been raging since last day in the district bounded by Copperopolis, O'Byrne's and Reynold's ferries, covering an area of over twenty-five miles. Large quantities of hay, feed, timber and wood fencing, with a number of dwellings and barns have been destroyed.

The fire has jumped the Stanislaus River and is sweeping the country toward Chinese Camp. The estimated loss so far is over fifty thousand dollars.

An Oakland Man Shot by a Foot-L. B. Espejo of Berkeley was stopped by three men, near the Sixteenth-street station. One of the men pointed a pistol at him and told him to throw up his hands. ## STEAMER ASHORE.

ANACORTES (Wash.,) July 25.—[By the Associated Press.] The steamer daho is ashore at South Point and will prove a total loss. Last night the sea was making a clean break over the ship. Grave fears are entertained for the safety of the crew, who are still on board, unless they managed to reach one of the wrecking schooners last night. The surf is so heavy on shore that it is im-possible to see the wreck. There is no life or surfboat in this vicinity.

Had a Picnic at San Quentin.
SACRAMENTO, July 25.— Today
Deputy Sheriff Miller of Amador arrived with a man named John Kesseler, who stole a horse on Thursday from a ranch in the southern part of the county and was captured soon after. Kesseler admits the theft, and says he wants to go to San Quentin for fifteen years, and has just served a term there for murdering his father in 1885. He says he had a regular picnic there. He is only 20 years old.

Snowsheds Condemned. SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—As a result of J. A. Fillmore's tour of inspection over the Central Pacific, about four miles of snowsheding have been condemned. Many of these sheds have condemned. Many of these sheats have stood from twenty-two to twenty-three years and are beyond repair. They will, therefore, be taken down and new ones will be built in their places at a cost of about $350,000.

Three Little Children Burned to Death at Ripon.

Modesto, July 25 .- (By the Associated Press.] Last evening at Ripon, San Joaquin county, Warren, the 7-year-old son of G. W. Masters, while playing with matches, set fire to a can of coal oil, and in an instant the building was in flames. The fire spread so rapidly that two children, George and Warren, aged 4 and 7, respectively, were burned to a crisp. Another child a baby girl, crawled outside the house badly burned, and died in one hour. Ella, the 17-year-old daughter, ran into the house to rescue her little brother, but was overcome by the flames and compelled to drop the child on the threshold, where it perished. Ella was badly burned about the head, arms and shoulders, but will recover. Four other children escaped. The mother was less than one hundred yards away, but was unable to reach home in time to save the children. The house, furniture, clothing and all were destroyed. The people are penniless. The father a baby girl, crawled outside the house The people are penniless. The father is a section hand on the railroad, and is very poor.

Blaine Demands an Inquiry Into the Colima Affair - Guatemaia Has Plenty of Arms but Lacks Men.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CITY OF MEX ICO, July 25 .- | By the Associated Press.] Yesterday the San Salvadorean Gen. Ezeta, brother of President Ezeta, defeated the Guatemalans again at Atezacatempo Chingo, in Guatemala, twenty leagues from the frontier, obliging the Guatemalans to abandon their fortifications at Coco. The San Salvadoreans captured an immense amount of booty.

Following a correspondence between Guatemalan Generals and San Salvadorean traitors, Gen. Ezeta sent a personal challenge to President Barrillos of Guatemala.

According to a special to El Universal

Guatemalan agents are spreading false reports of victory.

Señor Mariscal, Mexican Secretary of State, has addressed a note to Senor Manuel Dieguez, resident Minister of Guatemala, saying that Mexico has decided to prevent any attempt at a decided to prevent any attempt at a forcible union of the five Central American republics, but she would be pleased to see such union if it could be amicably arranged and without coercion. Mexico will regard any attempt on the part of Guatemaia to infringe the autonomy of any of the latter's sister republics as a prima facie casus belli.

A dispatch from Gautemala City says the Gautemalan artillery under Gen. Sanchez with eight hundred men Gen. Sanchez with eight hundred men and infantry under Gen. Aguilar, two thousand men, attacked the San Salvador forces July 24th, and droye them back into their own territory with loss on both sides. The San Salvador troops lost a Gatling gun and one field piece. The Gautemalan forces suffered more severely, losing two standards and over five hundred men.

The defeat of the Salvadoreans was apparently only a ruse on their part, for in two hours they returned with reinforcements and forced the Gautemalans to beat a hasty retreat, after malans to beat a hasty retreat, after inflicting upon them severe injury. The Guatemalans lost many men, arms and ammunition.

The Salvador troops are now encamped on Guatemalan soil near the road leading from San Salvador to Guatemala's capital.

NICARAGUA JOINS SALVADOR. Nicaragua has sent an offer of assistance in money and troops to San Salvador and the offer has been accepted. The attempt of these countries to subdue Guatemala will probably lead to a long and bloody war.

spent many years in Central American provinces, and who has just returned from that country on his way NEW YORK, July 25 .- Dr. Wilfred can provinces, and who has just re-turned from that country on his way to Europe, was seen and questioned concerning the reported outbreak be-tween Guatemala and San Salvador: "I believe the reports are true. Back of the whole question there is one of great interest to Americans, the outlook for the Nicaragua Canal and the effect upon that enterprise resulting from war. It is the generally accepted belief in Central America that if Guatemala succeeds in corrections. San Salvador and America that if Guatemala succeeds in overcoming San Salvador and Nicaragua she will load down the water way with so many concessions as to make its completion impracticable, if not impossible. There are a good many Americans down there and they are to a man interested in the defeat of Guatemala for this reason." GUATEMALA WELL ARMED. SAN FRANCISCO, July 25 .- The Pacific Mail steamer San José arrived from Panama tonight. Capt. W. J.

from Panama tonight. Capt. W. J. Russell states that he has spent the greater part of the last six months in Guatemala city, and that immense quantities of guns and ammunition have been shipped into Guatemala from England, France, the United States and other countries, and that there are enough rifles in the country now to arm 100,000 men. Capt. Russell says what the Guatemalans lack is a disciplined army; that they have one foreigner there, a Frenchman, who is an instructor in the military school, but they have no fighters, and in war times they have to go out and catch recruits. to go out and eatch recruits.

Damron Safe Behind the Prison Bars.

HIS CAPTURE LAST EVENING

nstable Fred Smith and C. H. Jennings in the Redick Blo -The Forger's Startling

The mystery about the disappearance of J. M. Damron was solved last evening at 6 o'clock by his cap-ture in the city by Constable Fred Smith and Detective C. H. Jennings. It was rumored about the streets at that time that Damron had been captured and a Times reporter paid a visit to the County Jail. The fugitive had not arrived and the Sheriff's office and police headquarters had not been apprised of the arrest. Shortly afterward, however, Damron arrived at the jall, accompanied by the officers. He displayed considerable self-possession as he came in, and had several joking remarks to make with the officers and Capt. Darcy. He had several days' growth of beard on his face, and looked as if he had seen some tough times since his disappearance. Aside from that he looked as usual When asked by the reporter if he would say anything, he said certainly and sat down for an interview. When asked as to his adventures, however, he displayed reticence and said that he would not say anything at present about that.

DETAILS OF THE CAPTURE. When Mr. Smith was asked as to the details of his capture he said that there was not very much of a story to tell. He said that he had procured information which led him to believe that Damron was still in the city and had not gone to Chili or any other foreign country. He worked up the ciew, located him once and lost track of him. He found a trace again, however, and on the redormation received went about 6 o'clock to the Redick block, corner of Bradway and First street. This may be express a the first and second floors by offices, and there are several vacant rooms on the third floor. Procuring a pass key from the junitor he went through the rooms, and in one of the vacant ones, No. 7 or 8, he and Jennings discovered the fugitive. He was in undress uniform, and was in his stocking feet. The room was bare, with the exception of some clothes in the corner, and Damron, when the door opened, threw up his hands and exclaimed:

"WELL, THE JIG'S UP." mation which led him to believe that has a room on the third floor of the building, near the one where Damron was found, and it is supposed that he had something to do with harboring

When asked about that, however, the officers said that it was not in his room that Damron was found, but a vacant one removed therefrom. If Lockwood knows anything about it, it will no doubt develop in a few days.

The bondsmen of the captured man a feeling suits, in blant, although it. are feeling quite jubilant, although it was ascertained last night that they will be out $500 by the arrest, having agreed to give that much for the capture.

NEWS OF THE ARREST spread rapidly, and even before Dam ron was taken to the County Jail it was generally talked about on the street. Justice Lookwood and C. C. Stephens, Damron's counsel, were in consultation at the office of the latter, while J. Marion Brooks was spreading the news up and down Spring street. It is impossible to say just how the obtained, but it is believed that the man who was sheltering the fugitive, as his friend, betrayed him, for a money consideration, the amount believe as the fugitive, as his friend, betrayed him, for a money consideration, the amount believe named as $500.

money consideration, the amount being named as $500.

Just what Damron will do it is hard to say. It is not believed that he has a shadow of a chance to escape the penitentiary; but whether he will keep his mouth shut and take his punishment without "squealing," or whether he will tell all he knows, is the question.

MISS KELSO.

Result of the Librarian's Eastern Trip.

Miss Kelso, the librarian of the Public Library, has just returned from a trip to her former home in Cincinnati, where she has spent a portion of he summer vacation, and has also availed herself of the opportunity afforded to investigate the latest improvements in the methods and appliances of a num-ber of the large public libraries. In order to facilitate her work in this direction the board of directors extended her leave of absence, thus enabling her to visit and inspect the workings of the public libraries at Cleveland, Springfield, Dayton, Columbus, Chicago, Omaha, Denver and San Francisco. At the last-named city all visitors to the public library are required to take from the doorkeeper a large numbered brass tag which they surrender at the desk when they want to read a book. As the tag is only returned when the book is given up, and the doorkeeper allows no exit without he gets the tag, it is claimed that books cannot well be stolen under this system. The absurdity of paying two doorkeepers $160 a month to prevent a small possible loss of a few books does not seem to have struck Prof. Cheney and the San Francisco authorities.

One result of Miss Kelso's visit East will probably be that the next annual meeting of the American Librarians' Association will be held in Los Angeles. She received substantial encouragement to expect a decision to that effect, and although a strong effort is being made to get the association to meet in San Francisco it is hoped that the superior attractions of Southern California will be finally admitted. cisco. ADAMS DISCHARGED. He Goes Free on a Technical Point.

The case of S. H. Adams, the dentist, charged with personating an officer, was dismissed before Justice Lockwood yesterday on motion of District Attorney Kelly. The case has been pending for some time, and about a week ago the trial commenced. Eight jurors had been impaneled, when Justice Lockwood, before whom it was being heard, was arrested on a charge of forgery, and directed the clerk to dis-

When the case was called yesterday morning, C. C. Stephens, attorney for the defense, moved a dismissal on the ground that his client had been already once placed in jeopardy. Mr. Kelly consented to the discharge, which was granted by the Court.

Deputy District Attorney Phibbs, who has been conducting the case, was very much annoyed over the action of his superior in permitting a dismissal, saying that he was almost certain a conviction could have been secured, as the dismissal of the eight jurymen was not a bar to proceeding with the case,

While Damron would not say anything about where he has been since he disappeared last week, still there are various rumors about it. It is said that he was out on Washington street for several days at the house of some woman friend of his more halcyon days, and that he came to the Redick block a few nights ago, and secreted himself there until there should be a more propitious time for escaping. The audacity of the plan was startling. It is in the business part of the city, a prominent corner where there is constant travel, and detection it would seem, well nigh in evitable.

DETERMINED TO DIE.

Two Brothers Attempt to Commit Suicide.

WHAT THE MEN SAY ABOUT IT.

Shot Themselves in the Head Be-cause a Brush Fire Got Beyond Their Control - A Very Peculiar Case.

One of the most singular attempts at suicide on record came to light yester-day afternoon when No. 19, from San Francisco, reached the Wolfskill depot at 2:55 and Constable H. Sievert of New hall jumped from the train, closely fol-lowed by two of the most wretched looking individuals that man ever looked on. To a TIMES reporter, who happened to be on the spot, the Constable related the following story:

SIEVERT'S STORY. "Last night at 12 o'clock I was called up by a neighbor, who stated that he had found two men in a dying condition in a little cañon near Newhall. He said they had both been shot in the head and seemed to be dying. I dressed and hurried to the spot, where I found Louis and Philip Audigiet, wo brothers, on the ground under a two brothers, on the ground under a tree.

"I soon discovered that the men were not dead, although both of them had ugly looking bullet holes in their heads. I found that Louis could talk quite plainly so I asked him what it meant, and if he could tell me who had shot him. I took his statement down and it is about like this:

WHAT THE MAN SAID.
"My brother Philip and I came here a few months ago and took up a quar-ter section of land. We built a brush ter section of land. We built a brush thouse and have lived there ever since.

We are trying to improve the place, and up to last Tuesday we hoped to make for ourselves a nice little home, but luck is against us, and I want you to write to my brother in France and tell him how we died. Last Tuesday evening a fire broke out in the brush near our place and we thought we were going to lose our little cottage, so we started another little fire in front of our home and made it burn toward the fire that was coming to devour us. That was early Wednesday morning, and for a little while it looked as if we were all right, but our little fire got away from us and joined the big fire, and before we knew what was up the whole country was on fire, and I saw at a glance that our neighbors were to be burned out. I knew right off that my brother and I were in great danger, for I have been told by lawyers that if a man lets a grass or brush fire get away from him and burn up his neighbor's property, he will be sent to State's Prison for a long term of years. As soon as this idea came in my head I told my brother what great danger we were in, and asked him what we must do to save our honor. We talked for a long time, and shed many tears when we realized that an American jail would probably hold us for a life. Finally we said we would dilke men. So we went to the house to make ready for the solemn act, for we had decided to take our own lives. We hardly knew how to do it, for there was no poison on the place and the only thing we had was our little pistol which you now have (a 38-caliber double action.) We put our watches and all the money we had in the house, about $20, in a tin can which we placed in the creek so that the fire could not destroy it. After we had made our valuables safe we brought our pistel to this tree and made ourselves as comfortable as possible on the grass/ Then Philip took the pistol and placed the muzzle in his right ear. I saw house and have lived there ever since.

Louis, in answer to questions, stated that he and his brother fired the shots

Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, and no one came near them until Thursday evening. They had nothing to eat or drink, and it is not known how they managed to live. The Constable did not know at first what to do with the men, but he finally decided to bring them to this city and place them in the County Hospital.
Soon after the train reached this city Constable Stevert secured permits to place his men in the County Hospital were resting easily last night.

THREE BULLETS IN HIS HEAD.

THREE BULLETS IN HIS HEAD. A careful examination of the wounds shows that Philip is in no danger, while his brother's wounds are quite serious and his chances for rec are very slim. All three of the bullets are very slim. All three of the bullets entered his head from the right ear, and it is singular that he has lived so long with so much lead in his head.

Both men are single. Louis is about 55 years of age and Philip is 30. Both of them have served in the French army and claim to belong to a good family. They are educated, and it is singular that they should have attempted to take their lives simply because a brush fire got away from them.

They have turned over their property to Constable Sievert, and want him to send everything to their brother in France in case they die. The "Dog Case."

The "dog case" came to an end yesterday, and resulted in the dis-charge of both Vaughn and Long. Justice Austin, in giving his decision, said that there was no evidence implisaid that there was no evidence impli-cating Vaughn in the larceny of the dogs, and that the testimony, as de-veloped, showed, if it showed any-thing, that he had merely received them, so that if he was guilty of any crime it was another than that charged. As to Long, while one wit-ness positively identified him as one of the men who was in the buggy when the dogs were stolen, three others swore that he did not leave his home on that day. on that day.

CITY AFFAIRS.

A Couple of Vetoes by the Mayor.

AN OR DINANCE THAT IS LOADED.

Weekly Meeting of the Board Public Works-Recommenda-tions Adopted-The Carbage Contract.

The Council, at the meeting two weeks ago, passed an omnibus ordi-nance to the effect "that all alleys, streets, parks and places which have been dedicated, or which have been offered to be dedicated, as such within the city of Los Angeles, be, and the

the city of Los Angeles, be, and the same are hereby, accepted as public streets, alleys, parks and places."

It is a well-known fact that many important streets have never been formally dedicated and accepted by the city as such, and the ordinance was designed to cover all such cases. The sweeping character of the ordinance, however, caused a great deal of comment at the time, and it was so loosely drawn that it was urged that it might leave a way open by which real-estate jobs could be foisted on the city.

Mayor Hazard seems to be of the same opinion, as the following veto message has been filed with the City Cierk:

Clerk:

To the Honorable Council of the city of Los Angeles: I return herewith without my approval "an ordinance accepting streets, alleys and parks of Los Angeles." I think the best plan is not to accept any perk or street until we know the terms on which it is dedicated and the conditions surrounding it. It may not be for the public interest to accept every street or park that is offered to be dedicated for such purposes, as provided by this ordinance, because there are certain oblications resting on the municipality regarding the maintenance of our parks and streets, and I don't think it advisable to thus in advance of any dedication and in the dark publicly announce that any one may dedicate a piece of land for a street or park, and it thereupon becomes such without further action on the part of the city, carrying with it a corresponding obligation on our part to take care of it.

To illustrate: A short time ago a piece of part of the city, carrying with it a corresponding obligation on our part to take care of it.

To illustrate: A short time ago a plee of land was offered to the city for a park. It consisted of a triangular pleee of land at the intersection of three streets, containing less than one-nineteenth (1-19) of an acre, and estimating to the center of the streets bounding the triangle, was a street surface thirty times as large as the proposed park, the improvement of which would have been saddled on the city, not to mention the cost of improving this park and maintaining it subsequently. In many parts of the city unnecessary streets are laid out without any regard to the tosography of the surrounding country or their necessary connection with other streets, and without any consideration for drainage, which has of late resulted in so much trouble and inconvenience to our people, and to accept all these streets without question would hardly be justified after our experience in that behalf.

This ordinance is loaded. Let every park or street scheme be presented on its merits before action is taken on it. Respectfully, HENRY T. HAZARD, Mayor.

ANOTHER ONE.

ANOTHER ONE. The Mayor has also vetoed the ordinance of intention to change and establish the grade of Providence, establish the grade of Providence, from Orange to Ward street, for the following reasons, as set forth in his message: "I understand this ordinance originated in a petition of the property-owners, who, desiring to improve the street, petitioned for a change of the grade of the street which would make the improvement less expensive and of less damage to the property aligning the street, but the grade proposed in this ordinance, instead of being in accordance with the wishes of the property-owners, would make the improvement more expensive and of still greater damage to the property than on the grade as now established. It is understood that all the resident property-owners desire established. It is understood that all the resident property-owners desire the grade asked for, and will object to the grade herein proposed, or the improvement of the street thereunder, and the grade desired by them being in no way objectionable to the city and the public, there is no public interest to be subserved by the taking effect of this ordinance, as its only result will be to delay the improvement of the street as desired by those most interested."

This is the second or third veto of ordinances of intention for the same reasons, to wit, because the City Engineer's office disregarded the wishes of the property-owners who asked for the proposed changes.

der a misapprehension as to the side of the street for sidewalk, that the protest be denied.

On petition of John Goldsworthy et al. the board recommends that the City Engineer present an ordinance of intention to establish grade on Sixth street between Main and Alameda streets.

On petition of M. McGreal to establish grade of First street from Booth street to the west city limits on a grade of 1 in 25, the board recommends that the same be referred to the City Engineer for investigation, and report.

The board recognizes the necessity of a better system for keeping clean the streets in the business portion of the city, and are only waiting for the Superintendent of Streets to repair all defective places in gutters, etc., of bituminous-rock streets, which was ordered two weeks ago when, together with the Board of Health, we will consider the subject of sweeping, sprinkling, flushing gutters, etc., etc. Flushing gutters full of holes would only help to create one of the nulsances complained of. We can only urge that the Street Superintendent immediately begin the work referred to, which we learn will begin today, July 25th.

In regard to the change of grade of Teed street, the board recommends that the accompanying ordinance be passed.

THE GARBAGE CONTRACT.

plaints About the Defective Service.

Of late there has been considerable complaint about the garbage service. It is also alleged that D. F. Donegan, the contractor, has failed to carry out the contractor, has failed to carry out his contract, and that it should be declared forfeited. It will be remembered that Mr. Donegan secured the contract to care for the garbage of the city for two years at the rate of $17,500 per year, payable monthly, and that he agreed to erect a crematory within ninety days and dispose of the garbage by burning the same. This has not been done, for the reason that Mr. Donegan was enjoined from erecting the crematory in the place where he proposed to erect it by the property-owners, but he has nevertheless been paid the full amount called for by his contract every month by the Council without question.

contract every month by the Council without question.

In order to find out just how the matter stood, a Times reporter yesterday called on Clerk Teed. Mr. Teed said that Donegan's contract called for the erection of a crematory in ninety days, but that he had been enjoined, and, for this reason, the Council had given him an extension of time. He understood that Donegan had said that his crematory was on the way. He could not say whether the contract could be forfeited or not. He could say that Donegan had been paid his monthly allowance of about fourteen hundred and forty dollars ever since the contract had been signed. As to the service, he knew nothing about that. contract had been signed. As to the service, he knew nothing about that. The whole matter is in the hands of the Board of Health, and he presumed that any complaints addressed to that body would receive proper attention. This, Mr. Teed said, is about the status of the case at present. the case at present.

the police force took place before Justice Savage yesterday on the charge of assaulting John Abbott, of notorious reputation, with intent to commit murder. The row took place July 4th at the Eintracht saloon, on Spring street. There was a crowd of men drinking, and a difficulty occurred, in which Officer Dorsey struck Abbott on the head with a "billy." Abbott claims that the officer did the striking when he was being held by two men, and was defenseless, while Dorsey claims that Abbott told him he would shoot him if he took hold of him, and got him by the throat and was choking him when he struck him; also, that, in the beginning of the trouble, Abbott snatched his "billy" away from him. The examination lasted all day, and the testimony was about all in when court adjourned until this morning.

The Cruel Check Rein.
[Bural Californian.]
The Chicago Times, in a recent article in which it joins the ministers and the other good people in a vigorous protest against a proposition to establish Sunday horse racing in that city, takes occasion to administer the following stinging rebuke where it is much needed:

"And, by the way, while the ministers are about the good work of suppressing Sunday horse races, a little attention to an atrocity that comes nearer their own doors, or the doors of their churches wight not be suited. t nearer their own doors, or the doors of their churches, might not be amiss. Waiting in front of almost every church every Sunday can be seen handsome carriages, the horses attached to which have their heads that drawn out to nearly a straight line with their necks by an invention of the devil called an over-check rein. The poor beasts endure this constrained and unnatural position for an hour or two, while the plous owners join in seeking at the Throne of Grace that mercy they deny the more deservjoin in seeking at the Throne of Grace that mercy they deay the more deserving, but helpless brutes that are subject to their whims. Said a noted preacher once, 'I have little faith in the religion of a man whose horse does not know he is a Christian.' It is time for Chicago preachers to do something in the way of impressing the gospel of decent humanity to animals upon their hearres."

Ladies who persist in torturing their carriage horses with tight check-reins in obedience to a senseless fashion do not make consistent or influential members of the S.P.C.A.

Girdled Trees. California Fruit Grower.

The salubrious climate of California has developed a new peculiarity, that of sustaining life in trees for years after they have been girdled. Several instances have been brought to our attention this spring of fig trees (growing thriftily and bearing abundantly,) the trunks of which have for several years been destitute of bark. In one instance, an orchardist's hogs stripped a number of trees of bark as far up as they could reach. The uncovered wood turned black and is now to all outward appearances dead. The trees, however, have shown no signs of distress and have since borne several fine crops of fruit. The bark at both top and bottom of the denuded portion is making extraordinary efforts to meet. This tenacity of life seems also to extend to the English walnut. Last week our attention was called to an English walnut tree, growing in an abandoned lot near the Narrow Gauge Railroad in Alameda. The tree had some time in the past been completely girdled with an axe. The half-severed chips and the exposed wood have turned hard and black, denoting several seasons of exposure. The tree, while neither very robust nor full of nuts, is growing along and does not look worse than could be expected from the neglect with which it has had to contend. Its progress in future will be watched with interest. The English wafnut tree will stand most any vicissitudes, excepting standing water at the roots and poor or shallow ground. The writer has seen trees taken up in Carpenteria Valley. Santa Barbara county, which were from twelve to fifteen yoars old, the Santa Barbara county, which were from twelve to fifteen years old, the branches and roots of which were sawed off to stubs. The almost-bare trunks were planted and in two years made fine heads.

Vol. XV411..... . No. 58 THE Los Angeles Herald prints a strong, manly and logical editorial, taking high and sound ground upon the question of a proper and selfrespecting independence in party jour-

THERE was some lack of clearness and exactness of statement in a paragraph of an article in yesterday's issue regarding delegates and the Senatorship. The idea intended to be conveyed might have been more clearly expressed in the following language: It is in every way desirable that delegates to the Republican State Convention should go uninstructed as to choice of a United States Senator. Good Republicans should be chosen in the several Senatorial and Assembly districts for the State Legislature, which, in turn, will choose a Republican Senator, giving proper attention to the claims of all candidates.

DAMRON has been captured and is will feel relieved-more so, perhaps, than some other persons, who would have preferred that the fugitive should stay away. Now let impartial justice There is no call for maudlin sympathy in this case. Damron was a poor man, tempted by want. He has had every opportunity; every en-coaragement; every assistance. He has deliberately and persistently chosen to do wrong rather than right, and must now suffer the penalty. If there are others, equally guilty with him, let them be shown up and share his punishment.

A DISTINGUISHED Republican states man of the Pacific Coast writes to the editor of THE TIMES as follows:

editor of THE TIMES as follows:

. An editorial from your paper Jentitled "Modern Journals versus Party Organs"] whose mysentiments. There is no safety in polities that cannot stand fair criticism; and there is no way to purify party pulities but to criticise when wrong, and thus have the mistakes of a party corrected within the party. In this age of enlightenment there can be no political questions that should be or that ought to be kept from the public, because any politics that does not have as its moving purpose the benefit of the people, is merely personal, and ceases to be of any public benefit.

This is unquestionably the modern, the better and the true idea. By it support nor hair-splitting; not mock THE TIMES boldly stands, fearless of the adverse criticism of machine politicians, self-appointed "leaders" and personal sycophants.

On Wednesday we replied to a correspondent who asked our authority for spelling Bering without the "h." another inquisitive person writes to correct us in this matter. As there seems to be such a thirst for knowledge on the subject, we will inform our captious critic-and any others who may be interested-that Vitus Bering was not a Rusbut a scion of a Danish family, and was born in Jut-The form Behring is unknown in Denmark. Bering is adopted in alost all non-English works and in modern English dictionaries. The navigator himself spelled his name this way, and the Russians specially spell the name with an "e," in place of the Russian letter represented by "eh." For these good and sufficient reasons continue to be "English, y know," in this matter-without how ever, indorsing the English view of the seal question-and drop our aitches in referring to Bering Sea and Bering

THE trial by a military court at Tuc son, of Maj. A. S. Kimball, Chief Quartermaster of the Department of Arizona, has caused much surprise to of that officer. The charge against Maj. Kimball is negligence in failing to discover that the Tucson Government office rentals were exor bitant. The surprise which is expe rienced in relation to this matter comes from the trifling character of the charge, viewed in connection with the record and reputation of Maj. Kimball. That officer on his own behalf claims that the Chief Quartermaster is nowhere recognized as having any duty whatever to perform in connec tion with the assignment or allotment of quarters at a post, or the hiring of those necessary where the public buildings are insufficient; that Capt. Miltimore was on duty as the local quarter master at Tucson, and, in the absence of an immediate commanding officer. was competent and it was his duty to offices for all disbursing officers stationed there.

SHALL WE HAVE A GREAT POP-ULAR DEBATE?

Deep interest is naturally and properly felt by Republican citizens in the conduct of the impending guberna torial and senatorial campaigns—espe cially in the latter, for the former has in it fewer elements of doubt, and involves not so many or so important popular issues. Besides, with the certainty that the people's choice, Markham, will be the Republican nominee for Governor, confidence in the outcome is strong, and concern for the result is reduced to the minimum among his party friends.

But as to the Senatorship, there is rapidly growing up among Republicans a feeling that our antagonists, the too-confident Democrats, should be met on the ground which they themselves have chosen for a great popular political battle; that Stephen M. White should not be permitted to have things all his own way on the hustings; that we should not place ourselves in a position where the Republican party can truthfully be charged with being lashed to the chariot-wheels of any man; that we recognize no divinity hedging round the person of any money king or political potentate in our midst; that we should be able to maintain the ground that the Republican party of California exists for the benefit, not of individuals, but of the people, the State; that our orators should be able to proclaim truthfully from every stump in the commonwealth the aim and purpose of the Republicans, which is to elect a Legis lature that will choose any one of a dozen honest and able men in the party to the high office of Senator; that there is no considerable opposition in our ranks to the policy of electing United States Senators by direct vote of the people; that the Democracy has no patent, not even a caveat, upon that idea; and, finally, that the Republican party, when aroused and embattled, is not to be swept out of existence by a puff of wind, or by charges of corruption, which, if true, lie against individuals rather than the organization The growing sentiment, in short, is that we must show our ancient antagonists that we are able, ready and willing to fight, and that we do not propose to go into the conflict hampered, trammeled, or with faint hearts

Mr. Stanford is absent from his post in Europe, but if he were on the the County Jail. His bondsmen ground he would not be physically equal to the task to be performed in the impending campaign Then let the right Republican champion rise up, and, at the command of his party, take the field of debate against the chosen tribune of the Democracy and the people will acclaim his appearance and support his cause! It will bring back the olden days when great questions were greatly discussed on the popular forum, and the cause of popular government will receive no detriment.

SURPRISING PAINFULNESS.

The success of the Republican party depends upon the honor and fealty to principle of its members. If every man stands unbought by his principles and convictions; if every untrammeled Republican paper makes a vigorous light against the common enemy-no for coin, but for principle-asking neither quarter nor four-bit piece, then there can be no doubt as to the ultimate result. The party demands of its adherents loyalty to principle rather than to men; demands not lukewarm obsequious devotion to mere men; not a slavishness that is blasting as death; but the party demands that Republicans move on, rank and file, a volun teer not a mercenary army, with the perfect sympathy which a common and righteous cause engenders.

In this connection we have not been able to point with pride, but have no ticed with surprise and viewed with alarm the action of our contrumpery, the Trombone, whose editorial utterances for a long time back have been such as to be past finding out, if intelligent meaning and coherency were aimed at. The course of the Trombone has been such as to bring upon it the grave suspi cion of camping with the corrupt when ever opportunity offers, and of enter taining an illicit and unholy affection for every political harlot supplied with coin, whether of strictly local ill-fame or otherwise. A review of the attitude of the contrumpery, which, with amazing gall, claims to bear the banner of Republicanism at its "masthead. carries the conviction, not alone to us, but to Republicans at large, "from Siskiyou to San Diego, and from the sierras to the sea" (as far as heard from.) that it is enamored of every demigod, whether Republican or Dem ocrat, who indulges in metallic argu ments, and that it is possessed of keen and insatiate desire to crown him (for coin in hand paid) with any high position in the gift of the people that may be found lying around loose, and to relegate any Republican Senator or other official to the shades of political obscurity, unless he comes down with How has the Trombon the dust. toyed with the charms of its brass mounted and accidental idol, and held them aloft to be consumed by the as tonished gaze of its alleged constitu-

Hotwaterman is literally the Trombone of the people. It there were no Hotwaterman, there would be no Trombone. It does not, however, by any means follow that if there were no Trombone there would be no Hotwaterman, for he, the great central figure of the Pacific Coast today, is sulfgenerus—self-sufficient and entirely independent of all extraneous aids and circumstances. When we say that we feel it a distinguished honor to be permitted to use our humble pen in praise of this great man, we express but a small portion of the sense of mingled reverence and esteem which permeates our editorial being as we Hotwaterman is literally the Trom!

write. For is he not, in every was man, mentally, morally and physical as financially?—the last mentater of first importance to the Look at him! Mark that nobis firmness of Jove is the providing the swelte-like basty of Atomia! Note his courtly manners—a true southerman of the old school!—his Chesterheiding grace, his savoir fairs, his supplier is modo, not usmixed with the fortier is re which becomes the great Governor of a great commonwealth! Truly a preuz cheralter is he, equally at home on the rostrum, in the field of battle, in the mazy dames, as a moving spirit in an insane asylum, at the courts of princes, at a two-bit restaurant, or down in the thousand-foot level of a mine. As an orator, it is safe to say that he has no living peer—and few dead ones. Could Demosthenes hear his lofty flights and paralyzing perorations, he would turn in his grave, drop the pebbles which he used to carry in his mouth, and take to the tail Threelan timber. As a presiding officer he is fully equal to Speaker Reed, having, in addition, a tinge of bombommic which that great leader sometimes lacks. ("Si, Senor") As a write; when we peruse his occasional effusions dashed off in hasty moments snatched from the devouring cares of state, we are reminded at one time of Shakespeare and anon of Martin Farquhar Tupper. As an occasional contributor to the press—the Tribune and Mr. Boruck's "hoss paper"—his style forcibly reminds one of those well-known writers, Vindex, Flat Justits, Old Subscriber, More Anon and others of that lik. Of him we may truly say, quoting the inscription on Shakespeare's tomb at Stratford-on-Avon:

"We ne'er shall look upon his like again,"

"Take him for all in all,
"We ne'er shall look upon his like again,"

[And blamed if we want to!] Blinded by its passion, the con-trumpery overestimates the force and effect of the political senility and literary hogwash which it daily works off upon its few surviving, suffering readers. It also overestimates the metallic charms of the apostate Republican and half-way Borax "American" at whose feet it has so long been groveling; and proportionately do the ower and qualities of the real Republican leaders (always excepting the one and only demigod) receive diminution. What are we to conclude from such slavish and fulsome adulation as this?

So far as the election of Senators by the people is concerned it, will be a practical question in the impending campaign, though it cannot be made applicable to the successor of Senator Stanford, because he must have no successor except himself; all the other aspirants must be ruled out. This journal is bound to take this position and proclaim the Senator a great leader, for did he not come to the rescue when the only representative Acquilled to the sheriff? And, so long as there is the slightest prospect of coin. to be corraled in that quarter by the only representative Republican paper, through the skillful use of en editorial right made of taffy, why should the Tribune not see in the person of Senator Stanford the only man in California worthy to wear the Republican Senatorial toga? Shall we cast to the winds the editorial bread and butter? Shall we suffer ourselves to be caved down the bank by the dread monster Impecunicity, aided by the hard-hearted sheriff? Perish the thought!

We do not find it necessary to charge slavish and fulsome adulation as this?

We do not find it necessary to charge the contrumpery with connubiating with all sorts of harlots, for the fact i notorious; and we hold that, in this respect, its attitude toward the decent Republicans of the State is damned peculiar and open to the gravest question—or it would be, if there were any question at all about its attitude, which there is not; for it is notorious, from Sheel to Breakfast, that the from Sheel to Breakrast, that the aforesaid "gernal" is of irregular descent, having originated with "Smoothy" himself. It is our desire that every honest, independent and unbought Republican paper should have the confidence of the Republican party; but we warn the Trombone that it has aroused a fear that its veins and ar-teries throb and pulsate with blood tainted before high Haman with a con rupt, cowardly and dangerous infusion At heart the alleged life-blood of the Trombone may possibly be rich, 'red and rare; but on the surface, away from the 'Bone, where it percolates before the eyes of the Republican voter, it is to be feared that a cheap quality of diluted am-monia predominates; and, as for back bone, it has been demonstrated, times without number, that the spinal column is composed of cartilage.

P.S. This able and luminous editorial must, in order to get at its true efforts at editoria which appeared in the Trombone of Friday, headed, respectively, "A l'ain-ful Surprise" and "The Senatorial Question." . . See?

THE idea of a popular debate, or series of joint discussions, during a between representatives of each of th great parties-such a debate as that which took place in 1858 between Lincoln and Douglas—grows in favor among the people as it is thought over. Such a debate, conducted by eloquent earnest and well-informed men, would ot only be highly interesting, but very instructive. It would have an enn oling effect upon the campaign; would lift politics, for a time, out of the ru into which it is so prone to fall, and would call out a full vote, by enlisting the active interest and sympathies of Why should not the era of joint political debates be revived?

Ip the late Mr. Waterman was dis appointed by the action of the Reput icans of his county (San Bernardino) at their primaries, he has only himse to blame. He declared that he was out of the race for Governor, and they promptly took him at his word. To have hesitated or doubted would have been for them to impeach his word and they would never do that. Ex tinguished be the thought!

WASHINGTON, July 25 .- [By the Associated Press.] Senator Frye today received a letter from Secretary Blaine in reply to his of recent date. Mr. Blaine says, in part:

Blaine says, in part:

You sak me what assurance I have as to Spain's willingness to enter into reciprocal arrangements of trade with the United States. Your question surprises me, for you cannot have forgotten that only six years ago the Prime Minister of Spain, in his anxiety to secure free admission to our markets for the sugar of Cuba and Porto Rico agreed to a very extensive treaty of reciprocity with Mr. Foster, then our Minister at Madrid. In the year before, in 1883, a very admirable treaty of reciprocity was negotiated by Gen. Grant and Mr. Trescott, United States Commissioners with the republic of Mexico, a treaty well considered in all its parts and all its details, whose results would, I believe, have proved highly advantageous to both countries. In view of the pending discussion it is a somewhat slugular circumstance that both these treaties failed for the express reason that both provided for the free admission of sugar. Congress would not then allow a single pound of sugar to come in free of duty under any circumstances whatever, and now the proposition is to open our ports free to everybody's sugar, and to do it with such rapidity that we are not to have a moment's time to see if we cannot make a better trade, by which we may pay for at least a part of the sugar in the products of American farms and shops.

Our change of opinion certainly has been trade, by which we may pay for at least a part of the sugar in the products of American farms and shops.

Our change of opinion certainly has been remarkable in so brief a period. Indeed, the only danger of our not securing advantageous treaties of reciprocity now is a possible belief on the part of those countries that we are anxious for free sugar; that by patient waiting they can secure all they desire without money and without price. Fearing that result, I sought an interview with eight Republican members of the Committee on Ways and Means more than five ments ago. I endeavored to convince them that it would be expedient and wise to leave to the President the opportunity to see what advantageous arrangements of reciprocal trade could be effected. I was unable to persuade the committee to take my view.

It is, I think, a very grave mistake to oppose this reciprocal proposition, from fear that it may conflict in some way with the policy of protection. The danger is, I think, wheily in the opposite direction. The value of the sugar we annually consume is senormous. Shall we pay for it all in cash, or shall we seek reciprocal arrangements by which a large part of it may be paid for in pork and beef and flour, in lumber and in sait and iron, in shoes and calico and furniture, and thousands of other things? I think that the latter mode is the highest form of protection and the best way to promote trade. When shall we enlarge our commercial intercents with that great centinent, South America, if we do not now make a beginning? If we now give away the duty on start we sireadly have given away the duty on the production of the counter of the sure of the state, what shall be our instingation for States, what shall be our justification for the policy?

You have recently received congratulations—in which I cordially join—on carrying the shipping bill through the Senate. Do you not think a line of ships generously aided by the Government will have better prospect for profit and permanence if we can give to them outward cargoes from the United States, and not confine them to inward cargoes from Latin America?

A Protest Against Fees of Pension Agents.

The Debate on the Tariff Bill Opened in the Senate.

avorable Report on the Bill to Pension Mrs. McClellan-Debate in the House on Irrigation.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, (D.C.,) July 25 .- [By the Associated Press.] Senate.—Mr. Blair presented a memorial from the Grand Army l'osts expressing abhorrence at the action of Congress in allowing pension agents a fee of $10 in each case under the recent dependent pension act, and enclosing a circular of a Washington claims agent, offering to active men in localities half the fee in all cases to be sent to him. Mr. Blair said he concurred with the memorialists in the expression of their abhorrence. Mr. Cockrell presented a memorial from St. Louis protesting against the passage by the Senate of the Federal Election Bill, stating that the masses of the people were so dazed with the enormity of the proposed out-rage on the sanctity of the ballot that they had not yet formulated words in condemnation of it. Another memorial against the bill was presented from Adrian, Mich. The House bill on that subject, on motion of Mr. Hoar, was referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elec-

the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Mr. Sherman offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Printing to report whether any abuses existed in printing matter in the Congressional Record that ought not to be printed therein, and to report such bill or regulation as will limit such printing to the actual proceedings in both houses; also whether it is expedient to edit the debates of Congress by the omission ofsuch parts as are immaterial, and of such papers as are already printed as public documents.

The resolution gave rise to some dis-

public documents.

The resolution gave rise to some discussion, but was finally referred to the Committee on Printing.

Mr. Morrill moved to proceed to the consideration of the Tariff Bill.

Mr. Gray antagonized the motion with one to resume consideration of the House bill to transfer the revenue marine service to the Navy Department.

ment was adopted extending the application of the bill to the life-saving service.

Mr. Cockrell took the floor and had not concluded his remarks on the Marine Bill at loclock, when the tariff bill came up as unfinished business.

On motion of Mr. Aldrich, it was agreed that the formal reading of the bill be dispensed with, and Mr. Vance proceeded to address the Sensts.

Mr. Vance said the result of the bill might be to reduce the revenue to a certain extent, but not to reduce taxes. What people desired was a common sense reduction of revenue and a corresponding relief from the payment of taxes. The McKinley bill was an outrage on human patience and an insult to the intelligence of mankind. It neither reduced revenue in the sense of reducing taxation nor equalized the duties on imports. On the contrary, it increased taxation and made the duties more unequal by imposing heavier burdens on the poor than on the rich, and by putting such taxes on the necessaries of life as to shock the moral sense of every just man.

Teutonic blood was not also desirable and profitable.

Mr. Plumb said, before proceeding to consideration of the bill by paragraphs, he would like to know what the Finance Committee believed would be the effect of the bill on revenue.

Mr. McPherson said the almost unanswerable speeches of the Senators from Indiana and North Carolina (Messrs. Voorhees and Vance) seemed to preclude the necessity of any further defense of the Democratic position, and now the Senator from Kansas (Mr. Plumb.) in the simplicity of his nature, inquired of his own committee for some information on the bill. Did not the honorable Senator know that for the honoration on the bill. Did not the honorable Senator know that for the past three or four days the newspapers had been full of reports that it had been resolved not only by the Finance Committee, but by the Republican caucommittee, but by the respublican cau-cus also, not to attempt any defense of the pending bill? If the bill could not be defended, it could not be passed. He, therefore, in order to expe-dite business, would move that the pending bill be recommitted to the Committee on Finance, with instruc-tions to report at the carliest practications to report, at the earliest practicable moment, a bill to reduce revenue and equalize the duties on imports on the basis that the average rate of duty should not exceed the average ad valo-rem war tariff rate of 1864. He referred to the campaign of 888 as one in which immense sums of money had been corruptly raised ind corruptly used in behalf of the Ispublican ticket. That money had been raised, he said, among the beneficiars of the pending bill. Chief among hem was a plous citizen of Pennsylvaia, who had since been rewarded with a seat in the Cabinet as the price of hi villainy.

Mr. Sherma criticised Mr. McPherson's remarks to reducing the average rate undeithe pending bill to the average rate disting in 1864 and explained that the average of 36.69 was made upon al goods then dutiable and undutiable, bit at that time not more than 10 or if per cent. of imported goods were in the free list. If the average rate if duty were ascertained on goods disable and undutiable it would be nd 52 per cent., or 36 per cent., but only 17 or 18 per cent.

Mr. Plumb complained that no detailed statement had been made as to the effect that would follow the passage of the bill. If there should be a deficit within the next eighteen months it would be a pretty serious matter. He thought the Senate ought not to err on the sile of a deficit. Going on to enumerate the expenditures for the next fiscal yiar, he gave it as his opinion that the Dependent Pension Bill within the next two years would be costing the people $50,000,000 a year. Mr. Plumb went on to speak of the necessary expenditure of the Government. He referred to the possibility of there being next year a defict of nearly fifty millions that would have to be made up by new taxes, and asked who was interested in producing that state of things. He thought, in reporting the bill, the matter had been overlooked. It seemed to him as if somebody interested in the rate of duties had said: "We do not care what the effect on the revenue may be. That is not our concern. Congress has got to mind that. We want our pound of fiesh." He gave notice that he would offer amendments to the amendments that would prevent the formation of trusts.

Mr. Allison defended the Senate from the charges of extravagance in the matter of appropriation bills.

Mr. Aldrich expressed the opinion that Mr. McPherson was not serious in his motion, and remarked that if it were carried out in law the effect would be to increase the revenue by $$110,000,000 over the amount that would be produced by the pending bill.

Mr. Gorman asked Mr. Aldrich to give the Senate a frank and fair statement

Mr. Gorman asked Mr. Aldrich to give the Senate a frank and fair statement as to the probable results of the bill if enacted into a law.

Mr. Aldrich said if the importations for the next fiscal year were the same as the last the revenue would be about twenty millions. He could not give figures as to the expenditures. They did not intend to create a deficit knowingly and purposely, and did not believe that would be the result.

After some further discussion and without action on Mr. McPherson's motion, which is pending the Senate adjourned.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Productive Pomona.
Pomona, July 20.—[To the Editor of The Times.] It really seems as if Pomona is about entering upon an era of genuine prosperity. During the exciting times of the "boom" of 1887 and 1888 money was more plentiful and business more lively, but it was feverish and uncertain. If we did not say it, we all asked ourselves, "How long will this last?" or "What is to be the end?" The end came suddealy, and a few were stranded. Many more were crippled and have had to struggle along to meet payments due on land purchased at boom prices, or have been obliged to allow the title of lands partially paid for to return to the original owner and lose the payments made.

For the past six months there has been a healthy business in real estate. The sales have not been to speculators, of genuine prosperity. During the exand lose the payments made.

For the past six months there has been a healthy business in real estate. The sales have not been to speculators, but to those who intend to improve the land, build homes and make the soil produce something which product is to be sent out of the country and bring coin back. For years this place has existed on money exported from the Eastern States. We had nothing to sell and everything to buy, and had to borrow money to live on. Now a change is taking place. During the past eight years many thousands of fruit trees have been planted—oranges, lemons, clives, prunes, apricots, peaches, plums, figs, and many others. We have had a steady income since the first of January. We received before the first of March nearly fifty thousand dollars for oranges. Then commenced small receipts for strawberries, which in the aggregate must have amounted to nearly ten thousand dollars. Then came raspberries and blackberries. They did not make a large income, but added something. Then came the apricot harvest, which is now about over. There were fully one thousand tons, and the average price was $25 per ton, or $25,000. Most, of the fruit was bought by Cook & Langley, and nearly all of it was dried here. This gave employment to nearly every person in the vailey in one way or another, and the money spent for the labor was sent into Pomona and paid to our people.

Cook & Langley have paid out nearly $8000 for labor already. Tomorrow the peach harvest will begin. The crop is large and will be expensive to handle, as it is the intention to can the most of it. Probably $20,000 will be expended in handling the peach erop and paying for the fruit. Then come the prunes and nectarines.

These fruits will certainly produce $40,000, but it will be impossible to tell how much until the prunes are dried in September. After the prunes come the olives. I have heard no estimate of the value of this crop, but put it at $6000. I have failed to count in the fig crop, but it will surely be nearly ton bundred and sixty tho

fig crop, but it will surely be nearly ten thousand dollara, making nearly one hundred and sixty thousand dol-lars income for the year 1890 for fruits

It may seem an extravagant amount to place the value of figs at $10,000, but Lafayette Rhorer contracted his crop from ten acres yesterday to Barn-ard & Benedict of Los Angeles at $50 per ton, and Mr. Barnard estimates the crop at eighty tons on the ten acres.

The prune crop is very large. Many orchars are just coming into bearing and a close estimate cannot be made, besides some sold at $30 per ton, some $35 and some $40. The demand for prunes is becoming more urgent. At Vacaville 9 cents per pound is offered for the dried fruit, and sacks fur-

It is a mystery to me why the fruit-growers of Los Angeles county cannot, or do not, obtain the same prices for their fruit that is obtained in the cen-tral portion of the State. Anywhere within 100 miles of San Francisco $30 per within 100 miles of San Francisco $30 per ton is paid for peaches and apricots, and fifty to sixty dollars per ton for prunes. When the fruit-raisers combine they will be able to dictate the price instead of being forced to receive whatever may be offered.

It begins to look at last as if we would soon have a beet-sugar factory at Chino. Experiments have been made for the past year by R. Gird and others. Beets were planted nearly every mouth in the year and tested at all stages of their growth. The essults have always been very satisfactory. Henry T. Oxnard spent several days here examining the soil and beets, and does not hesitate to say that he believes the land on the Chino ranch to be the best he has seen.

Politics are very quiet. The Demorottles are very quiet. The Demo-cratic primaries passed off yesterday without a ripple of excitement. The following delegates were elected: F. D. Joy, H. C. Westerman, E. Hicklin, Phil Stein, C. F. Loop, Len Claibourne, B. B. Nesbit, G. Mirande and C. R. Johnson.

I do not believe there is a Republican in Pomona that does not hope that Col. Marknam will receive the nomination, and many Democrats have said they would vote for him if nominated. There is not nearly such a general exodus to the seashore and mountains this year as usual. The reason is that there is work to do at home.

Quite a number of the old soldiers are making arrangements to attend the encampment at San Diego on August 1st. There will be at least thirty go from here.

The Pomona, Elsinore and Southwest Railroad still has an existence on paper. The directors meet semi-occa-sionally and do some business, but do not give any definite information as to what they propose to do. The general impression is that the road will be commenced before the first of January, 1891, and that the Southern Pacific will build it clear to San Diego.

NEMO.

Trombone Misstatement Corrected. To the Editor of The Times: The Tribune of Thursday publishes in its editorial columns statements that the new Democratic weekly paper is to be a "Coleman organ," and will grind out airs to the Coleman meter. I beg leave to correct this assertion. As the publisher of that paper I have to say that I know nothing of Mr. Coleman's candidacy except from common report.

I have never been approached by him, or by any one interested in his canvass, in reference to having the paper espouse his cause.

If this paper is started it will be through the support afforded by the Democrats of Los Angeles city and county, and it will not favor specially any candidate before the convention. When the nominations are made, it will support the nominees. Respectfully,

JAMES E. BENNETT.

The advantage to residents of Pasadena in buying THE TIMES consists in the fact that they not only get in its columns the news of their own city every day, but also the news of Los Angeles, of the State, the Coast, the East and the world.

The paper is served regularly by carrier, at an early hour every morning, to the residences and business places of citizens, at the same price charged in Los Angeles.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

YESTERDAY was very dull from a business standpoint. The merchants are counting on a lively Saturday to even things up.

THESE are the days when the man who never can find any news in a news-paper ought to take to editing the same himself.

THE Wallace cannery and the Woman's Fruit Preserving Union are industries that should be liberally patronized at home. We need more establishments just like them, and the ducted will furnish a comfortable liveway to get them is to support those we three years, with a promise that he would pay them a bonus of one dollar for every-pound of raisins that should be raised during that length of time. The boys went to work with a zeal that nearly took the old gentleman's breath away, and from present indications this year's crop will cost him $2000. Pasadena parties might work the same racket with equally good though expensive result.

SUNSTROKE is one of the afflictions to which humanity is liable in summer during the hottest of the weather. The question is frequently asked why sunstrokes are of rare occurrence in Southern California. The dryness of the atmosphere explains it. Heat and moisture together seem to be the conditions most favorable to produce sunstroke, for moisture in warm air prevents the radiation of heat from the body, and thermal fever, more commonly known as sunstroke, is probably an overheating of the blood, producing chemical or fermentive changes, it is dangerous to health and even to life. When one who has been exposed to the heated rays of the sun in a humid atmosphere begins to suffer from headache, giddiness, nauses and disturbance of sight, accompanied with sudden and great prostration of the physical forces, sunstroke is probably imminent. If such a one is wise he will, when the symptoms above given manifest themselves, immediately seek a cool place and make use of some simple restoratives, and he may avoid further the puble, but if he parsists with his bus-fully carried out, it is not surgrising that the work in the establishment as election of the theory from the original work in the establishment is such as a first the parsists with his bus-fully carried out, it is not surgrising that the preserved fruit, marmalades that preserved fruit, marmalades and jelles sent out from the establishment soon made for themselves and gilles sent out from the establishment would suffer no loss in the head of the new management.

use of some simple restoratives, such as aromatic ammonia, etc., and he may avoid further buble, but if he persists with his busces he will doubtless soon become very ill, which illness usually takes the form of heatexhaustion, heat apoplexy or sunstroke, the thermic fever of some writers. These who are some writers. Those who are exhausted by the heat have a cool, moist skin, a rapid, weak pulse and respira-tion movement, and the pupil of the eye is dilated. In fact, the symptoms are those of collapse. These patients will probably recover promptly, an event which may be hastened by the use of a tonic and restorative treat-

Our special classes are arranged for women only so far, but we hope some time to have a course of lectures on special physiology given to boys; and we hope further that it may be practicable later on to have a coeducational class of ladies and gentlemen, with subjects of discussion appointed, and special papers prepared by each sex. This class, however, would treat only of the broader social, legal and domestic aspects of the question. This class does not yet exist, nor is it immediately likely to.

Again, there is an idea aftoat that now, especially along about twilight time. The man who don't own a lawn-has-just as much fun as his better fixed neighbor, sprinkling the why do not the parents do this? Ask them.

Some are afraid. Some are ashamed. Some mean well, but have not the requisite knowledge or power of expression. It is the right and duty of every young woman to understand her power and place in life, her splendid privileges, her immense usefulness. Many and many a girl loses her health for life for lack of proper instruction on some of the simplest facts of physiology. And many another enters the bounds of matrimony without any clear understanding of what duties she is so sacredly vowing to fulfill, or the least conception of how best to fulfill them.

The most important and binding contract in life entered upon with no understanding of its terms! This is preposterous, and its effects we see all about us. Young girls and their mothers are invited to these classes; children are not.

The society proposes calling a special A FRUIT-PRESERVING UNION. What Some Ladies Are Doing in South Pasadena—Mr. Ridges Has a Word to Say—Per-about us. Young girls and their mothers are invited to these classes; children are not.

The society proposes calling a special meeting of mothers, and addressing them on the subject of "What to Teach the Children," yes, and "How to Teach the Children," yes, and "How to Teach the Children," also. There is a pitful shame-facedness on perfectly natural themes even between young children and their parents; and this deters many from what they still recognize as a duty. But there are many who hold that any plain teaching as to the nature and functions of their bodies would lead children into evils otherwise not thought of.

Of these let it be asked if untaught children are therefore wholly ignorant of these matters? Have the foultongued little ones from whom we guard our own so closely been taught their false knowledge by mothers or teachers? And are we sure that even our guarded little one, to whom we teach nothing, are equally sure to learn nothing about this?

Let a fair comparison be made between little ones properly taught to teach nothing, are equally sure to learn nothing about this?

Let a fair comparison be made between little ones properly taught to understand and respect their own bodies and those left to pick up, as they do pick up, all manner of hints and lies and dangerous uncleanness. It is a universal peril, an undying stain, and only to be met by wise foreknowledge. Now, why should we deny the children their best safeguard? Will some one answer?

The ladies' class and girls' class meet on alternate Saturdays, at the house of Dr. Kate Black, on Worcester avenue, until further notice. The first meeting of the girls' class is at 4 p.m. tomorrow. Three addresses will be given to this class on three alternate Saturdays, the first by CHARLOTTE PERKINS STETSON.

A Mistake Somewhere William Brryman Ridges had a few words with a Times reporter yesterday morning on the matter of the article published in last Sunday's issue relative to the $71.50 lawsuit, which happily was arrested by the fortieth verse of the fifth chapter of Matthew. Mr. Ridges told the perspiring scribe that he would have agitated the matter at earlier date, only he had not seen the item until Thursday. The apology was accepted gracefully, whereupon Mr. Ridges said the facts of the case had not been correctly stated, but as he declined to state exactly what the errors were, an anxious public must remain for a time in ignorance of just how the case stands, except it can be asserted on good authority that the plaintiff, whom Mr. Ridges denies having referred to as being "young and pretty," has the buggy, and some one else other than Mr. Ridges has the horse. THE SOCIAL PURITY MOVEMENT. tte Objects and Alms Discussed by Mrs. Stetson.

An effort is being made by certain ladies of Pasadena to arouse public opinion and create fresh interest in the advancement of social purity. That this is a good purpose no one can doubt. Of its success, however, much doubt exists, and of its special methods there seems to be an extraordinary amount of ignorance and misconcep-Now the avowed effort of our society

BREAKFAST-TABLE TALK.

A man who has made a careful study of the subject says that in point of size the California mosquito is far ahead of his formidable New Jersey rival, and that he can bite ten times barder. Pasadenians who have been bitten, we regret to say, are not in a position to dispute these assertions.

Were it not for the fact that a large proportion of the population emigrates to the seashore in summer time we would ask some philanthropic man to start up a bathing establishment in our midst. As it is, the unwashed who are too poor to get out of town during hot weather have a hard time of it.

Bearish traders made a few feeble stacks upon certain stocks and Atchison attacks upon certain stocks, and Atchison and Lackawanna were the most conspicu-ous, but the movement was of short duration in other cases. The market closed heavy,

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

OUR FAMOUS FIVE-CENT SALE WILL BEGIN TODAY.

it Is Full of Worth and Merit, and Is Sure to Be an Event Long to Be Remembered-Read the Quotations.

PEOPLE'S STORE, SATURDAY, July 26, 1890 The sale that we this day do offer is full of worth and merit, and being so, wish it widely known to all kind friends. Much attention have we given to make the event one long to be remembered. To do things right takes care and heed—half doing never nends, this has experience taught us recommends, this has experience taught us. So when we say, "This sale great things will do," it truly can be credited. This famous five-cent sale has been the talk and wonder for some days. Today it buds and blooms to vision in all its radiant splendor. As said before, quarters at other times will only buy what nickels today will do. We want no word of praise for our stirring, active interest, by which we hand five times the value for the one. Yet those that want heir approbation to attest can do so when they their presence bring to cheer us on to do yet greater things.

A BRILLIANT ARRAY OF ATTRACTIONS!

Superior Concerts, Able Lectures, Field Sports, Athletic Exhibitions, Illuminated Fleet, Striking Tableaux, Sunday School Normal, C. L. S. C. Round Tables, Orchestral Con-certs, Pyrotechnics, Plano and Organ Recitals, Speecnes,

LECTURES.

Among the prominent lectures to be delivered are the following:

Among the prominent lectures to be delivered at a challenge.

"The Four Napoleons," illustrated, by C. E. Bolton.

"The Sham Family," a novelty of wit and satire—fifty heads under one bonnet—that makes sport of sham in all the walks of life.

"Reunited Gormany and Herole Louise," by C. E. Bolton. A lecture of the highest order and represented on large canyas in illustrations. Mr. Bolton will deliver other lectures upon "Russia and Romanoffs" and "Land of the Midnight Sun."

"The Blind Man Sicquent," Dr. W. H. Milburn, the blind chaplain of the Rouse of Representatives, will deliver five of his world-famous lectures: "What a Blind Man Saw in Paris." Mr. Bay in Regiand," "What a Blind Man Saw in Paris." Mr. Milburn will also preach one or two sermons during the session of the assembly.

"Military Genius," is the title of a lecture by Gen. L. A. Sheldon, to be given August 12th.

August 22th.

Jahu De Witt Miller. The very name of this popular lecturer is enough to provoke a smile, as he stands side by side with the other De Witt (Talmage) in versatility, humor and pathos. He lectures on "The Uzes of Ugliness," August 2d; "Love, Courtship and Marriage," August 4th: "The Stranger at Our Gates," August 5th, and "Distinguished Men I have Met," on August 6th, closing with "Some Contemptible Characteristics," on August 8th.

tinguished Men I have Met," on August 6th, closing with "Some Contemptible Characteristics," on August 8th.

"The Life and Times of Thomas Jefferson" is the subject of an able lecture by Stephen Bowers, Ph.D.

Col. Homer B. Sprague, Ph.D., the soldier, scholar and literatus, speaks on "John Milton," "Riches" and "Shakspeare."

In addition to these popular lectures, Dr. W. H. Pendleton gives three lectures on Escriptural study and interpretation: Rev. Dr. A. J. Frost three lectures on the Book of Hebrews; Dr. David Reed likewise three lectures on Biblical themes; Rev. Dr. H. M. Du Bose conducts a course of lessons on the "Symbolism of the Bible."

Prof. Henry Ludiam directs a School of Oratory and Elecution, one Cepartment of which is designed especially for the study of saored oratory or pulpit elecution.

-: TABLEAUX!:-

"Ben Hur," the great religious book of the present generation, will be represented by twelve character tableaux, with appropriate scenery, costumes and lights. Songs by Tizah and Iras. Recitation in costume of extracts from the book, including "The Fallen Tile." 'The Chariot Race," 'The Healing of the Lepers." Dialogue between Arius and Ben Hur on the galley deck. About seventy-five characters will be used in the tableaux. The management will spare neither pains nor expense, and have engaged Prof. Henry Ludiam of Los Angeles to take charge of the production.

HUGO MANSFELDT.

The engagement of the great planist, Hugo Mansfeldt, will attract the attention of all lovers of high-class music. Although this celebrated artist is a Californian, being a resident of San Francisco, he has gained a European reputation worthy of comment.

Special round-trip excursion tickets from all stations on Santa Fe ilroad, and also on the Redondo Ballway to and from Los Angeles. CHAUTAUQUA ANNUAL with full programme, sent on applicaall who apply to the secretary at Los Angeles, Cal.
